PHILADELPHIA – Clarinetist Steve Barbone will lead one of the Delaware Valley's best-known and hardest-swinging musical groups, The Barbone Street Jazz Band, for an afternoon of hot Dixieland Jazz at Community Arts Center, 414 Plush Mill Road, Wallingford, PA, on Sunday, January 15th, at 2:00 p.m. Barbone has been playing clarinet for 60 years and has shared a stage with many jazz legends from Coleman Hawkins to Thelonious Monk. For the January 15th concert, presented by Tri-State Jazz Society, he'll share the stage with some of Philly's best and most experienced Dixieland/swing players.

Half-price admission of $10, payable at the door, is available for first-time attendees and members; general admission is $20; full-time students with IDs and children are free. There are no advance sales or reservations. The Arts Center is less than a mile from the Media-Swarthmore exit of I-476 (the "Blue Route") and has free parking. For information see www.tristatejazz.org or call (856) 720-0232.

About Tri-State Jazz Society

Tri-State Jazz Society, formed in 1988, is dedicated to the preservation and live performance of early jazz, including traditional New Orleans, Dixieland, swing, ragtime, stride piano and boogie-woogie. The society's concerts feature leading professional small bands and soloists. All events are open to the public and anyone who enjoys traditional jazz is invited to join. Monthly concerts are presented in Wallingford, PA and Haddonfield, NJ to serve the entire Delaware Valley. Tri-State Jazz Society is a non-profit educational corporation supported by its members.
