PHILADELPHIA – Reed master Dan Levinson leads his Roof Garden Jass Band in a celebration of the centenary of the first commercial jazz recordings by New Orleans' Original Dixieland Jass Band in a Tri-State Jazz Society performance at Haddonfield United Methodist Church, 29 Warwick Road, Haddonfield, NJ on Sunday, September 24th, at 2:00 p.m. Comprised of a mix of seasoned and young musicians who strive to bring lively, authentic jazz to audiences across the continent and around the world, the quintet is dedicated to carrying on the tradition of early jazz.

Funding for this concert has been made possible by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/ Department of State through the Camden County Cultural & Heritage Commission at Camden County College, the designated arts agency of Camden County.

Half-price admission of $10, payable at the door, is available for first-time attendees and members; general admission is $20; full-time students with IDs and children are free. There are no advance sales or reservations. The church is about 15 minutes from central Philadelphia via the Ben Franklin Bridge and parking is free. PATCO is nearby. For information see www.tristatejazz.org or call (856) 720-0232.

About Tri-State Jazz Society

Tri-State Jazz Society, formed in 1988, is dedicated to the preservation and live performance of early jazz, including traditional New Orleans, Dixieland, swing, ragtime, stride piano and boogie-woogie. The society's concerts feature leading professional small bands and soloists. All events are open to the public and anyone who enjoys traditional jazz is invited to join. Monthly concerts are presented in Wallingford, PA and Haddonfield, NJ to serve the entire Delaware Valley. Tri-State Jazz Society is a non-profit educational corporation supported by its members.
