PHILADELPHIA – Tri-State Jazz Society veteran and cornetist Danny Tobias returns at the helm of his own quintet for the first time since March, 2016 for a performance at Community Arts Center, 414 Plush Mill Road, Wallingford, PA, on Sunday, June 3rd, at 2:00 p.m. Frequently heard performing with leading traditional jazz and swing groups, Tobias assembled a group of much sought-after players and friends who love to perform and arrange pieces in an effort to share musical connections with audiences. The band includes the imaginative piano playing of Joe Holt, virtuosity of Paul Midiri on vibes, improvisational bass of Joe Plowman and the rhythmic drumming of Jim Lawlor. Members of the ensemble have played extensively on the East Coast, around the country and internationally, keeping the artistry of traditional jazz alive.

Half-price admission of $10, payable at the door, is available for first-time attendees and members; general admission is $20; full-time students with IDs and children are free. There are no advance sales or reservations. The Arts Center is less than a mile from the Media-Swarthmore exit of I-476 (the "Blue Route") and has free parking. For information see www.tristatejazz.org or call (856) 720-0232.

About Tri-State Jazz Society

Tri-State Jazz Society, formed in 1988, is dedicated to the preservation and live performance of early jazz, including traditional New Orleans, Dixieland, swing, ragtime, stride piano and boogie-woogie. The society's concerts feature leading professional small bands and soloists. All events are open to the public and anyone who enjoys traditional jazz is invited to join. Monthly concerts are presented in Wallingford, PA and Haddonfield, NJ to serve the entire Delaware Valley. Tri-State Jazz Society is a non-profit educational corporation supported by its members.
