PHILADELPHIA – Led by cornetist Mike Davis, the New Wonders, a New York City-based septet with a deep passion for the original recordings of America's Jazz Age during the 1920s, will perform at Haddonfield United Methodist Church, 29 Warwick Road, Haddonfield, NJ on Sunday, January 6th, at 2:00 p.m.

Named for the model of cornet played by the enigmatic genius Bix Beiderbecke, The New Wonders include a member of the Jazz Orchestra of Philadelphia (JOP), an accomplished multi-instrumentalist and a 2010 Best Contemporary Jazz Album Grammy nominee. Passionate and stylish performers who hail from NYC, Philadelphia, Seattle and Missouri, members of the band perform and appear with many traditional jazz and swing groups.

Half-price admission of $10, payable at the door, is available for first-time attendees and members; general admission is $20; full-time students with IDs and children are free. There are no advance sales or reservations. The church is about 15 minutes from central Philadelphia via the Ben Franklin Bridge and parking is free. PATCO is nearby. For information see www.tristatejazz.org or call (856) 720-0232.

About Tri-State Jazz Society

Tri-State Jazz Society, formed in 1988, is dedicated to the preservation and live performance of early jazz, including traditional New Orleans, Dixieland, swing, ragtime, stride piano and boogie-woogie. The society's concerts feature leading professional small bands and soloists. All events are open to the public and anyone who enjoys traditional jazz is invited to join. Monthly concerts are presented in Wallingford, PA or Haddonfield, NJ to serve the entire Delaware Valley. Tri-State Jazz Society is a non-profit educational corporation supported by its members.
