PHILADELPHIA – David Oswald's Louis Armstrong Eternity Band (also known as the Gully Low Jazz Band) will celebrate the timelessness of traditional jazz at their Tri-State Jazz Society appearance at Community Arts Center, 414 Plush Mill Road, Wallingford, PA, on Sunday, April 7th, at 2:00 p.m. Raised in Swarthmore, PA, David Oswald began studying piano at age seven and tuba at eleven. Solely a classical musician until his junior year at the University of Chicago, David formed his first jazz band at that time, inspired by the heart of America's greatest art form. He has presented jazz education programs for children, written extensively about jazz music and serves on the board of the Louis Armstrong House Museum. Currently in the nineteenth year of its open-ended weekly Wednesday evening engagement at New York City's Birdland, the band features David Oswald

– Leader, Tuba, Danny Tobias – Trumpet, Ricky Alexander – Clarinet, Saxes, Jim Fryer – Trombone, Vince Giordano – Banjo, Guitar and Alex Raderman – Drums.

Half-price admission of $10, payable at the door, is available for first-time attendees and members; general admission is $20; full-time students with IDs and children are free. There are no advance sales or reservations. The Arts Center is less than a mile from the Media-Swarthmore exit of I-476 (the "Blue Route") and has free parking. For information see www.tristatejazz.org or call (856) 720-0232.

About Tri-State Jazz Society

Tri-State Jazz Society, formed in 1988, is dedicated to the preservation and live performance of early jazz, including traditional New Orleans, Dixieland, swing, ragtime, stride piano and boogie-woogie. The society's concerts feature leading professional small bands and soloists. All events are open to the public and anyone who enjoys traditional jazz is invited to join. Monthly concerts are presented in Wallingford, PA and Haddonfield, NJ to serve the entire Delaware Valley. Tri-State Jazz Society is a non-profit educational corporation supported by its members.
